KINGSLEY IN CHARGE PALO DURO PROJECT

Has Had Wide Experience As a Construction Engineer

MAJOR DURING WAR

Succeeds Miller As Superintendent of the State Park

Major E. A. Kingsley of Dallas arrived Friday to assume the position of general superintendent of the Palo Duro State Park. Major Kingsley is a veteran municipal, highway and railroad engineer. His appointment came through D. A. Colp, chairman of the Texas State Parks Board.

Major Kingsley succeeds S. O. Miller as general superintendent of the Park. Mr. Miller will continue as superintendent of camp 13, and will have direct supervision of the erection of the lodge. Other superintendents at the Park are W. F. Ayers and Howard Trigg.

A previous engineering connection was with the Choctaw railroad when it was built into Little Rock. In 1904 he was city engineer for that city, continuing in that position for seven years when he was made county engineer. He was selected as the first state highway engineer for Arkansas in 1913 and held that position until 1917 when the United States entered the war and he served overseas. From 1923 to 1927 he was city engineer for the city of Dallas.

For 20 years he has been a close friend of Mr. Colp. He pronounced the Palo Duro as one of the greatest projects in the Southwest, and one in which Mr. Colp has been highly interested for nearly 20 years. He comes with great enenthusiasm for the possibilities of developing the project.

Colonel Coppock, commanding officer of the CCC camp, received notice from the army last week that the Palo Duro had been selected as one of the projects to continue during the next six months' period, starting in April. Colonel Coppock has recommended that the four companies be enlisted to full strength, and the Palo Duro camp shall be the last CCC project in Texas to be discontinued.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK RE-ELECTS OLD OFFICERS

The following officers were named by the directors:

W. C. Black, cashier.
L. W. Cole, ass't. cashier.

LIGHT RAIN FALLS

Panhandle citizens were cheered Friday morning when rain started to fall about 8:00 o'clock, and continued for several minutes. However, the total moisture was only .10 of an inch, not sufficient to be of any practical benefit to the growing wheat.

Final Instruction Will Go to County Producers of Hogs

Letters will be sent to hog farmers the last of the week enclosing copies of contract and other papers necessary to complete a contract. These will be sent to all who answered the first letter sent out two weeks ago.

Therefore, if any farmer who is interested in the hog program has not answered this letter, he is urged to do so this week, so that his name may be placed on the hog list. This next letter sent out will contain announcement of meetings in the four commissioner precincts of the county.

Instructions from Washington to the county agents of Texas specify that no intensive campaign is to be made. In other words, the farmer must take the initiative. This being true, any one interested in a hog contract must not wait for a committeeman to call on him or to solicit his membership.

In Randall county it is desired to give every one, who is eligible, a chance to receive the benefits of the program. Therefore, we hope no one interested will fail to get his name on the list this week.

Temporary committeemen will meet with the County Agent before the precinct meetings for the purpose of reviewing the program before the contracts are signed.

W. H. UPCHURCH,
County Agent.

Two Meetings Are Called for Production Credit Ass'n

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the recently organized Amarillo Production Credit Association, held in Amarillo last week, it was decided to hold a number of meetings throughout the district so as to outline to the farmers and stockmen the methods used in making loans.

There will be two meetings to be held in this county, as follows: 2 p. m. at Canyon; 4 p. m. at Umbarger, Saturday, Feb. 10. The meetings in Randall county will be held under the direction of W. E. Bennett, the director from this county, which meetings E. L. Shelton, secretary-treasurer and manager of the association, and J. L. Nunn, president, will attend.

It is expected that within two weeks from this date the Association will be prepared to receive applications for loans. These loans are to be made on varying lengths of time up to one year and can be secured by livestock, machinery and growing crops. Loans may, also, be made secured by livestock only and in the case of the ranchman who desires to refinance large loans, it is stated that these may be accepted in amounts up to $100,000.00 although it is expected that most of the loans will probably be for smaller amounts.

Mr. Bennett urges that everybody interested in learning more of the detafls of this organization attend the above meeting.

Second Semester Brings Many New Students to W. T.

Enrollment is in progress for the second semester of W. T. This second semester will be split like the first one, making it possible for students to pay only one-fourth of the annual fees to attend the College.

Registration will continue until Monday.

NO EXTENSION IN PAYMENT OF AUTO LICENSES

Legislature Refuses To Make Extension of Time

COLLECTIONS GOOD

Car Owners Not Supplied With New Tags May Be Fined

The legislature definitely killed a bill extending the time for payment of 1934 automobile license. Cars not equipped with the new 1934 tags today will be subject to arrest by highway patrolmen.

Tax collection offices were crowded yesterday with citizens making their payments before the dead line at midnight.

It was impossible to make a check up on final payments in either the office of County Collector Bob Barnett, or School Collector John Guthrie.

The special session of the legislature caused many who had intended paying their taxes to pass up payment time yesterday. This was especially true of automobile owners, who were certain that an extension of time would be granted on payments.

The ruling of Attorney General Allred that there could be no extension of time for poll tax payments is believed to help the situation so far as poll taxes were concerned. A check up on these payments will be completed by the end of the week.

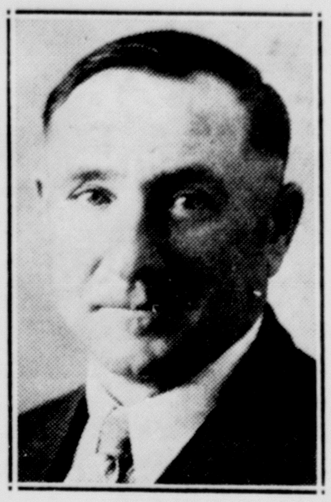
Extra help was employed thruout the past week by Collector Bob Barnett in order that those seeking to pay their taxes would not have long to wait.

Many Applicants Ask for Appointment Postmaster

Twenty application blanks were handed out at the local postoffice to citizens who are seeking appointment as postmaster. Employees of the office were not privileged to give out the names of those who have applied, but it is believed that fully 15 of those receiving application blanks have forwarded them to Washington.

The Civil Service department required that all applications must be in Washington by Jan. 30. After an investigation of the applicants, three will be selected from which the final choice will be made. It is likely that announcement of the one selected will be made shortly before March 18th when the term of Oscar Hunt will expire.

D. S. Hill Makes Announcement for Co. Commissioner



D. S. HILL

The following announcement was made yesterday by D. S. Hill and addressed to the citizens of Commissioner precinct No. 3 of Randall County:

After serious consideration, I have decided to make the race for Commissioner, and for the information of those whose acquaintance I have not made, I will say that I have lived in Randall County for the past eighteen years, during which time I have devoted my time to farming and stock raising. I feel like I am qualified for the office and if I am elected I will do the very best I can to serve you faithfully and efficiently. It is my intention to see each voter of the Precinct in person.

D. S. HILL.

Annual TB Test of Dairy Cows Will Be Started Soon

The annual test of Dairy Cows for tuberculosis by members of the Randall County Dairymen's Association is now being arranged. Each year these men pool their herds in the area around Canyon for the test. In this way, they save considerable bother and expense by testing all their cows at the same time. This testing pool is open to cow owners who are not members of the Association who want to test at this time provided they list their cows with the committee or at the County Agent's office.

The test will be made some time in the latter part of February and cows must be listed before February 15th to be eligible.

The testing committee this year is composed of R. O. Allison, L. T. Campbell and E. Gidden.

W. H. UPCHURCH,
County Agent.

Mrs. Edna Moore and Miss Eulalie Moore returned Friday from Riverside, California, where they have been spending the past three months.

NEW COURSES PROPOSED FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

New Teacher Added As Enrollment Is Boosted

IS OPEN TO ALL

All Interested are Asked To Enroll During Week

Several more Canyon people enrolled in the CWA school being conducted at the high school. Supt. Irby Carruth stated that many citizens were under the impression that only those persons engaged in CWA work were eligible to enroll. "This is not the case," stated Mr. Carruth. "Any citizen of Canyon 16 years of age or older may enroll and take the work being offered."

Mrs. W. R. Robinson was added to the teaching force this week owing to the increased number of students attending.

Mr. Carruth states that other courses will be offered if there is a demand on the part of the people. He hopes that every person interested in this special school will report during this week in order that all classes may be completed. Courses in Home Economics, government, mechanics and elementary education will be added if five or more persons wish to take these subjects.

All work in this special school is offered absolutely free to the students. The expense of teaching is paid through the CWA office as an added project for Randall county for the benefit of those who wish to improve themselves in any line of work. The federal government is sponsoring this movement that the citizens may take advantage of extra time which they may have on their hands.

The special school will likely continue as long as the government continues CWA work.

Standard Charge Is Announced for Admission to Park

J. B. Elliston has announced a standard admission charge for entrance to the Palo Duro State Park as follows: 35 cents for car and occupants up to six persons. If more than six are riding in the car, a charge of five cents per person is made.

The change was found necessary owing to the fact that large cars sometimes hauled 8 to 12 persons into the Park.

NRA Seeks Higher Standards and Quality in Merchandise

W. A. Warren talked Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon regarding the National Recovery Act and what it was accomplishing in the dry goods business. He described the chaotic condition of a year ago before President Roosevelt was inaugurated. At that time sweat shops were being operated all over the nation. These factories were established on short notice and unemployed women were told they would have to work for two weeks to prove they were qualified to do the job. They would then be told they would be paid for the third week. But when pay day arrived, the factory would move out overnight, having received three weeks' free labor. The market was flooded with bootleg merchandise manufactured under such conditions.

Along with the perplexing problems facing President Roosevelt, unemployment was one of the biggest. He inaugurated NRA for the purpose of saving legitimate factories from such competition as the sweat shop.

Higher standards of merchandise, shorter hours of labor, better living conditions for labor were the objects of NRA. The question confronting every person connected with NRA now is how they may profitably spend the hours of leisure given them under the New Deal.

While progress may have been slow under the new codes, Mr. Warren believes that conditions have materially improved and that a change has come for the better.

Major E. A. Kingsley, superintendent of the Palo Duro State Park, and Colonel E. R. Coppock, commanding officer of the CCC Camps, were introduced by Clyde Warwick and responded with short talks.

Visiting Rotarians were H. B. Gooch and R. A. Ford of Amarillo.

Wortham Boy Ill From Swallowing Ground Glass

Fred Wortham, Jr. has been ill the past week, having swallowed ground glass, which is thought to have been taken to the Wortham place and given to the pet dog, who died as the result of eating the glass. The glass was in meat, and the three-year-old boy got hold of some of the meat.

Mr. Wortham cannot understand why the meat was taken to his place to kill the pet dog, since the animal has been kept at home.

The young boy has suffered greatly, but is recovering from the attack.

MUCH WORK IS BEING DONE IN COUNTY BY CWA

Road South of the High School Will be Started This Week

ALL FEDERAL FUNDS

Local Projects Continued With No Expense to County

Work will start on the road south from the high school during the next few days, placing caliche on a four mile section, across the Tierra Blanca. The bridge north of the Chas. Holland place will be straightened, and the creek channel changed for the bridge. This project was approved three weeks ago, but could not be started so long as all of the CWA men were needed on the highway east from Canyon.

All of the expenses in connection with the road south is being paid through the CWA office, excepting $160 for right-of-way, and a small amount which will be necessary to supplement the caliche supply. It is believed that practically enough caliche will be found in the present right-of-way to do the job. Some mis-information has been spread in Canyon that the county was paying for this job, which is not correct.

Another mis-statement has been spread that the Randall County CWA office was paying for CWA men out of Amarillo on the highways north and east of Canyon. This is incorrect, as all of the labor from Amarillo is being paid out of the Amarillo CWA quota. It is likely there is no county in the state which is getting as much work from the outside on improving its roads as is Randall, owing to the fact that all of the expense in connection with widening the highway from Canyon to Amarillo is paid through the Potter County CWA office. Furthermore, 350 men and a large number of trucks have been employed on the highway east, all being paid out of Potter county funds. If these men had not been supplied out of Amarillo, the highway could not have been finished this year by Randall county CWA men.

The reduction in CWA hours is handicapping projects in the county. The new hour schedule is 15 hours per week for those living outside of Canyon, and 24 hours per week for those living in Can-

Texas Tech to Play Herd Here This Week

Traditional Foe To Be Hard For Buffs To Handle

Tonight and Friday night brings the Buffaloes their toughest opponents of the year in the Texas Tech Matadors of Lubbock. Because of the traditional rivalry between the two schools, and of the bitter contests in the past, the Buffs want more to beat Lubbock than any other school. Taking both games from Tech will make a successful season for the Canyon school regardless of how the other games come out.

Boasts Good Team

Chances for that coming about, however, are not especially bright. Lubbock boasts of one of the best teams that they have ever had. Led by co-captains Polk Robinson and Alvin Crews, Tech won eight games and lost three including one win over the Southwestern Teachers of Weatherford, a team that holds two victories over the Buffaloes.

Carl York's Buffaloes have not had a very successful season so far with three victories out of eight games. Last Friday and Saturday they dropped behind in the percentage column by losing two games to Central Teachers of Edmond in Burton Gym. They have won only one game in Burton gym while losing five.

Show Ability

At times in the last games the Buffaloes showed flashes of real ability. They showed that they could work together as a team and

One of the best movements started in Randall county this year is the library at the court house. At various times the people have talked about a public library, but it was not started until the women of the community decided that the thing must get under way if it was ever to start. Turning the library of the Women's Book Club over to the community, and the employment of the librarian through CWA funds has the library well under way. Various people of Randall county have contributed books and furniture to the new enterprise. The book shower of yesterday added many needed books. Individuals will still bring in numbers of books and magazines. With the splendid start thus made, the county as a whole could well afford to make an annual contribution to a library fund. Many counties on the Plains have reading facilities for their people in the way of a public library. Randall county could well afford to keep up with the steps of progress by giving the people an opportunity to have access to good books. A good public library is not a luxury; it is a necessity.

The special session of the legislature which started Monday, is receiving more criticism than praise from the people of Texas. While the necessity of more relief bonds was given as the reason, the fact remains that not half of the bonds authorized several months ago have been sold, and most of the counties have sufficient relief money on hand to go for a few more weeks. It seems that a political plot is behind the special session, which Jim Ferguson has hatched for the benefit of his friends. The fact that Ferguson has always opposed special sessions of the legisalture, and that this one was called without counceling with any of the political leaders of the state leaves the impression that the idea came from some political expediency rather than from a real demand on the part of the people. At any rate, the legislature will not fall for the demand of the Governor to approve relief bonds in the sum of $14,500,000, which is the balance remaining of the $20,000,000 issue approved by the people last year.

What will happen after May 1st? CWA work will close about that time. About 4,000,000 who are now drawing federal money on local jobs will be forced out of jobs, and must be absorbed by the farms or by industry. Federal relief money will largely be exhausted by that time. Public works will be stopped. Families which now look to their weekly CWA checks will be thrown upon their own resources. Planting of gardens will be one of the measures urged by the government for the people to care for themselves during the summer.

The life's work of Dr. Robert Bartow Cousins, first president of W. T., will soon be printed. Most interesting is the story in connection with his fight to improve school conditions in Texas. With the reaction of the present day against schools and colleges, much of the ground gained by Dr. Cousins and far-sighted men of his day will be lost unless those interested in the future of education make a decided fight. Citizens of Canyon will be greatly interested in this publication when it is ready for circulation.

Young Joe Bailey charged in his opening speech for the United States senate that Senator Connally had started a whispering campaign. Before the July primary, Bailey will hear distinctly and in a very loud voice from the farmers of Texas that they are not particularly well pleased with his opposition to President Roosevelt's farm recovery program. While Connally stayed in Washington looking after the people's interest, Bailey is in Texas starting his campaign.

President Roosevelt continues to have his way with congress. The Senate started a rebellion last week over the monetary bill, which quickly subsided when the President called in the leaders and gave instructions. What effect the new bill will have, few profess to have the least idea. The President is leading; congress is willing to let him assume both the leadership and the responsibility. A most happy agreement when the nations needs and demands a speedy recovery.

Calling the legislature just at the close of tax paying time was very bad for the state. Thousands of people who would have paid their taxes, decided to wait and see if the legislature would not postpone payment time. When the legislature started messing with the tax problem by making postponement in payment time, and remitting penalties and interest, it did a mighty good job of making tax collections almost impossible.

Dr. Thomsen, noted Amarillo preacher, predicted last week at the Canyon Rotary luncheon that there would be plenty of moisture during February and March, and that the Panhandle was on the edge of a boom. We hope that he was not in the same frame of mind as Will Rogers when Will referred to the little doggie as a coyote. Public performers should never overestimate the ability of their audiences to see a joke.

During prosperity the favorite excuse for extravagance was that the American standard of living must be maintained. During the depression we have learned that this so-called standard could be greatly lowered without any particular inconvenience.

Those acquainted with activities at the Palo Duro Park will not be surprised to hear in the near future that it will become a national park. Those in authority are extremely interested in the possibilities of developing this project as it should be developed.

President's Recovery Program May Be Chief Target of New Congress

These men are expected to prove outstanding personalities of the 73d Congress: (Left to right) Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, speaker of the House; Senator David Reed of Pennsylvania; Senator Robert LaFollette of Wisconsin; Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, and Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York. In center is Senator Carter Glass of Virginia. Veteran relief, liquor taxation, currency inflation and President Roosevelt's recovery policies are expected to stand out among the big issues of this session.

OF the many issues which Congress must pass on during its session, the main one probably will involve President Roosevelt's policies under his recovery program.

The NRA, for instance, may have a rough voyage through both houses. Southern and western members frown on it because, under the Blue Eagle, the prices of things farmers have to buy have risen faster than the prices at which farm commodities sell.

Other factions oppose its protrust angle. There still is some feeling against the AAA, even though wheat, cotton, and corn-hog payments and loans have reduced the recent farm unrest. The other new emergency agencies—PWA, FERA, RFC, etc.—will undoubtedly come in for their share of complaints.

On the whole, however, the 73d Congress is expected to support the president. Roosevelt's persistent popularity with the people, a Democratic majority in Congress, and the fact that many senators and representatives will run for re-election in November, lead to this belief.

* * *

LIQUOR and general taxation, currency inflation, bank and stock market regulation, and veteran expenditures — these are other momentous problems which greet the new Congress.

Now that repeal is an established fact, the government must set up liquor taxes that will yield sufficient revenue, yet keep prices low enough to discourage the bootlegger.

This revenue will be used to replace a tax burden of $400,000,000 in special and "nuisance" taxes.

The revelation that J. P Morgan and other millionaires were not paying income taxes has aroused congressmen to the need of plugging loopholes in the income tax law. Besides this reform, many progressives will fight for "soak the rich" measures, such as higher inheritance and big-income taxes, and taxation of the $35,000,000,000 federal, state, county, and city securities which are tax-exempt at present.

At the same time, there is a disposition to lower tax rates on earned incomes of less than $25,000.

It seems now as though the president will have his own way with the dollar. His order calling for a limited coinage of silver has appeased the inflationists, and the conservatives gain comfort from the fact that Roosevelt shows no signs of yielding to the clamor from the west and south for greenback inflation.

Further bank and stock market reform and control seems certain, after the recent disclosures by the Senate Investigating committee. The securities act, protecting the public from unscrupulous promoters, will be made easier to understand; but the president opposes any modification of it.

A real fight may develop over veteran relief, with the veterans trying to have their disability payments, pensions, and hospitalization restored to what they were before the Economy Act was passed.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel dow- and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. NRA © 1931 C. M. Co.

Famous Actress Will Appear in Amarillo Soon

KATHARINE CORNELL

Panhandle theater patrons will have the opportunity of seeing and hearing the actress acclaimed as the greatest on the English speaking stage. She is Katharine Cornell, who is bringing Rudolf Besier's famous play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," to Amarillo's Municipal Auditorium the night of February 17.

With Miss Cornell will be a famous actor, Basil Rathbone, heading a fine supporting cast.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is a gripping, powerful play dealing with the poets, Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Katharine Cornell rose gradually to the top of her profession thru a succession of plays that represented a great variety. It is interesting to note that two of her greatest successes were in two stage plays that the now popular Katharine Hepburn made famous in the movies—"A Bill of Divorcement" and "Little Women." But Miss Cornell's greatest achievement perhaps, was her interpretation of Candida in the George Bernard Shaw drama. Many critics say she is greatest of all Candida.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will be shown in Amarillo at popular prices, compared to those charged for a Cornell play in the larger cities—55c to $2.75. Reservations may be made by writing or telephoning Miss Lois Black, News-Globe, Amarillo, Texas.

The presentation will be another Tri-State Fair sponsored attraction.

FOR CHURCH OR BRIDGE GATHERINGS, MILADY'S WARDROBE SHOULD INCLUDE A SEMI-FORMAL FROCK

BY HARRIET

DRESSES which are neither tailored nor formal, but are dressy enough to wear to social functions, have an important place in the modern woman's wardrobe.

When your PTA (Parent-Teachers' Association) meets, you'll want to appear in something that is just a little extra nice. At the same time, you don't want to look overdressed.

Right then and there, you'll be glad to have a semi-formal frock which is in perfect taste for such occasion.

Church socials, little supper parties and afternoon bridge club meetings take on a new aspect of glamour if you have an appropriate frock to wear when you attend them.

It's smart to have long sleeves in your semi-formal costumes. And if there is something unusual about those sleeves, so much the better.

FOR instance you can have beading or perhaps some sort of embroidery on your sleeves. Sleeves which are full and blouse gracefully above the wrist lend themselves well to this type of adornment.

There is a vogue for bias inserts over the hips, extending to the hem And they're slenderizing to the mature figure.

Be careful in your choice of hats to wear with semi-formal costumes. You want something dressy, of course, but don't make the mistake of wearing an evening hat with them.

A shimmering lame turban will be grand, provided the afternoon affair is formal. But if it isn't, better choose a tiny hat of moire, satin or velvet.

A new deep mossy crepe in French blue fashions this youthful frock accented through generous sleeves with lame grapes appliqued with metal thread, giving a rich contrast to the mossy fabric.

Another frock which is simply grand for supper parties and formal teas is of black mossy crepe. The lines are long and slenderizing, with a low skirt flare.

Uncle Sam Launches Giant Long-Time Plan to 'Overhaul' America

THE settling of America, history tells, began in the 17th century But the history books of the future may have it that the re-settling of the nation began in the 20th century. President Roosevelt's new land policy, designed "with an eye to the long pull," looks forward to an orderly, well-laid-out America of the future.

The policy is the selective retirement from production of marginal land. This land—the thinnest, meanest, and least productive—will be closed to cultivation by whole farms, tracts and areas; not piecemeal, patch by patch. A fund of $25,000,000 has been appropriated for the purpose.

Abandoned is the blundering, hit-or-miss system of the past under which the pattern of life on Uncle Sam's 1,906,000,000 acres has become a hodgepodge. According to Rexford G. Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, we have quit being a nation of thoughtless, grabbing children and are growing up. "Now we must settle down . . . put our lands in order."

* * *

"MANY farmers are working soil which ought not be farmed, but rather should be planted to trees or used for recreational or residential purposes. And a large part of our non-agricultural population," continues Tugwell, "is living in places manifestly unsuited for the best life and the best work."

Miserable farm lands, amounting to little less than social and economic man traps, Tugwell claims, abound everywhere. The remedy lies not in uprooting families from their native soil and transplanting them, but in gradually converting bad farm lands to other uses.

Gradually, as the land plan unfolds over the years, Tugwell hints, it may evolve into a matter of the government buying up and withdrawing marginal land outright.

And widespread American resettlement will take place, as citizens reach for the better farming and living opportunities which Uncle Sam will create for them.

* * *

STATISTICS show that by next year approximately 43,000,000 acres of farm land—nearly one-eighth of the crop land now harvested in the country—will have been withdrawn from production. These withdrawals, brought about by the farm allotment plan, are on a piecemeal basis, occurring wherever crops are located. Nevertheless, they make the path easier for the more systematic land-planning program.

Completion of the new program, Tugwell prophesies, will mean better living opportunities for the generation coming up and an end to rural and village slumps. Erosion — the washing or blowing away of hundreds of thousands of acres of our land—will have been checked.

And industrial employes, with their work, eventually will spread out, bringing an interweaving of rural and urban life, and long-sought decentralization.

Floyd V. Studer Is Praised by Noted Scientist in Book

Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo, Panhandle archaeologist, has received warm commendation in a recently published book "Archaeology of the Arkansas River" by Dr. Warren King Moorehead, eminent archaeologist, and director of the Department of Archaeology at Phillips Academy of Andover, Massachusetts.

Dr. Moorehead's book contains the following acknowledgment:

"Mr. Floyd V. Studer, residing in Canadian at the time of our visit, rendered us assistance. After we had returned East, Mr. Studer devoted a great deal of time to the inspection and mapping of numerous ruins within a radius of 100 miles of Amarillo, his present home. Much of the new material presented in this volume is due to the kind assistance afforded us by him. He obtained many photographs and sent us pottery fragments and chipped objects for examination from 12 to 15 sites. Mr. Studer has written several pages for us and in these he presents his observations, for all of which we sincerely thank him."

In his Preface, Dr. Moorehead mentions that valuable deposits in this region are being destroyed and lost, and says: "Mr. Studer knows the region, and in co-operation with him some institution should at once send into eastern New Mexico, the Texas Panhandle and western Kansas a large expedition in order that we may have a complete and technical study of these very interesting, primitive and important remains.

Moorehead to Be in Canyon

Dr. Moorehead is to be in Canyon in about two weeks to meet Mr. Studer and to visit the new museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. He is now on a field trip during which he will visit museums in several western states, and will come from Phoenix, Arizona to Canyon, which will be his only stop in Texas. While here he will visit ruins and excavations and view the work which Mr. Studer has carried on since he left.

Dr. Moorehead, who was one of the first archaeologists to become interested in the Panhandle region, published the first information about the rich archaeological deposits to be found here in his article, "Recent Explorations in Northwest Texas" which appeared in the January-March 1921 issue of the American Anthropologist. The article, which told of the buried cities of the Canadian River regions, came as a result of his expedition to this section in 1919, when he met Mr. Studer and became much interested in his work. Dr. Moorehead's recent book is based on his second expedition to this part of the country in 1929.

Not only does Dr. Moorehead give Mr. Studer much credit in his book, but one chapter of the book was written by Studer and contains field notes and observations made by him.

Dr. Moorehead is at present working on a new study of stone artifices which will be published by the Yale University Press. Mr. Studer has been invited to contribute a chapter to this book.

CENTRAL QUINTET DEFEATS BUFFALOES IN SERIES HERE

Bison Herd Drops Two Games to Boys From Murrayland

The West Texas State Teachers College Buffaloes dropped a two-game series to the fast Central Oklahoma Teachers from Edmond on the Buff court Friday and Saturday by the scores of 33-37 and 29-39.

The Herd played a good game during the first half of the first game, leading at the end 18-12. But the Broncoes trampled the Herd in a rush of fouls and free shots during the last period to finish the victors. 15 fouls were called on the visitors to 5 for the Buffs. Richards played a fast, effective game for the Herd, scoring 10 points. He held the touted Haught of Central, down to four points. McMinn was high point man for the Yorkmen, being second in total scores only to Sherwood, tall and elusive Central pivot man, who tallied 15 points.

The second game, though rough, did not compare to the first one. The Broncoes sped through the whole game, though the Herd gave them a close race, they failed to have the offensive power at the last to jump into the lead. The score was tied at 17 all at the half. Sherwood was again high point man with 11 points. Richards was next with 9. Jacobson and Pryor, substitutes for Central, lead the last minute scoring spree which virtually defeated the Herd.

Mack Wilson

(The Service Station Owner)

"MY CUSTOMERS TALK ABOUT 'GAS' AND GAS"

MACK WILSON, the service station owner, discovers a lot about people in his daily contact with motorists, but one thing he can't understand is the difference in attitude toward the price of natural gas and the price of gasoline. He says that over the period of a few months the price of gasoline will fluctuate several cents, and there is never a murmur from his customers, in spite of the fact that gasoline is the only fuel that operates the common automobile.

He couldn't understand it because there are several fuels that people can turn to for general household purposes. Mack took the trouble to find out why they continue to use gas. He discovered that they would use gas if it cost several times the amount asked because it still would be the best bargain in fuels. He found, also, that people with automobiles spend more for gasoline than they do for gas for cooking and water heating.

You need not be a dealer in gasoline to appreciate Mack Wilson's attitude on gas rates. Consider gas for its value and you will recognize it for the bargain it is.

So That You May Know

Spelling is a very important school subject and provision is made in the elementary school that it may be taught with the highest possible degree of efficiency. Training in spelling is not begun until the reading adaptation is fairly well established, since such training is apt to develop word consciousness in the field of reading.

Great progress has been made in the teaching of spelling by the better selection of words to be taught, more intelligent grade placement of these words and their presentation to the pupil. Scientific investigations have been made in various parts of the country of words most likely to be used by children in their daily work, as well as those they will probably need after leaving shool. From these studies we have lists of words that meet both the present and permanent needs of the pupil. These lists are supplemented from the personal vocabulary of individual pupils.

Economical procedures in learning have been introduced so that time will not be wasted on drill with words already known. Few new words are taken each day; not more than five in any grade, and intensive practice given so that the images may be made vivid. Psychological evidence shows that class drill under the direction of the teacher is more efficient than unsupervised study by the individual. Special emphasis is placed upon correct pronunciation and the enunciation of each syllable in words to be learned. Words are often misspelled because of a wrong pronunciation of one or more parts of the word, by omitting some sound in the word, or by putting in additional sounds or syllables.

After correct pronunciation is established, the meaning of the word is developed orally by use in sentences or by definition. Then every effort is used to have pupils visualize the words correctly by calling attention to syllables, indicating difficulties, or calling to mind a well known rule of which word is an example. Pupils are urged to follow these steps when studying without the aid of the teacher and some time is given in class for independent study and the individual urged to spend most time on the words that seem difficult to him.

In giving the check on words studied, much contextual drill is given because it has been found children who write correctly the words of a spelling lesson often misspell these same words when they use them in sentences. By developing this habit of writing in correct form all words used we develop a "spelling consciousness," which sometimes seems an almost intuitive sense, so that by the time adult age is reached the spelling vocabulary keeps approximate pace with the reading vocabulary without conscious effort.

Eagles Lose To Happy Jacks

The Eagles lost their second game to the Happy Jacks by a score of 35 to 24 in the Eagle Gym Friday night.

Although Speck Williams, Eagle guard, was the first to find the basket, the Jacks took the lead early in the first period and kept it all during the contest

W. C. Barnard, 6-foot-three inch center for the Jacks, made 11 points to win scoring honors. T. V. Slack was the outstanding goal shooter for the Eagles with 9 points.

Twenty-seven fouls were made, and Harter and Fortenbury on the Jack squad fouled out. Slack, Eagle forward, also fouled out.

The Jacks were leading by 4 points at the end of the first period and at the half, but were leading 29 to 13 at the end of the third period. The Eagles scored 13 points to the Jack's 7 in the last period.

FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT

"Let us set the child in our midst as our greatest wealth and our most challenging responsibility. Let us exalt him above industry, above business, above politics, above all the petty and selfish things that weaken and destroy a people. Let us know that the race moves forward through its children, and setting our faces toward the morning, dedicate ourselves anew to the welfare of childhood."

The quotation given above should serve as the creed of every American citizen interested in children and their welfare. The depression has caused too many people to think wholly of material losses and material things until, in many instances, they have largely forgotten the children of our land. A fortune can be regained or repleted in times of plenty but boys and girls are educated only once and if that time is allowed to pass it can never be recalled.

The citizenship of America tomorrow depends upon the education of the youth of today. If that education and training is neglected, worse things than what we have seen lie before us. Instead of curtailing our educational institutions, greater efforts than ever should be made to see that every boy and girl, man and woman, is offered as much training as he will take; for the harder the problems, the more training it will take to solve them.

Eaglettes Defeat Hereford Girls; Eagles Lose

Canyon High School's basketeers met Hereford's Whitefaces in close games Jan. 23, of which Canyon girls managed to get the big end of a 25-22 score during the last few minutes of play, but the boys were only able to tie the score and got the little end of a 31-29 score during an extra period of 3 minutes' play.

The first half of the boys' game was in favor of the Whitefaces, but after the Eagles accustomed themselves to their gymnasium, the game changed. Walter Seed, Whiteface forward, received high point honors with 10 points, followed closely by "Scoop" Elliston, Canyon center, who had 9 points to his credit. The fourth period of the game was proved a sensational contest by the fans who cheered at every moment. Just before the final whistle, T. V. Slack, Eagle forward, placed a 2-point counter in the basket, and the game closed with the score standing 29 all, which was cleared up by 2 points from Clayton, Whiteface center, in an extra period of 3 minutes.

The feminine cagers started out rather slowly but became faster as the time rolled on. At the end of the first half the score stood 13-12 in Hereford's favor. Canyon forward, Mickey Schmitz, received high point honors with 17 points, followed by Arthur, Whiteface center, who had 11 points. This game too, proved very sensational after the teams got started playing.

Eaglettes Doubled By Happy Girls

Canyon High's fems suffered defeat at the hands of the Happy Jacquettes to the tune of 32 to 16 in the Eagle Gym last Friday night.

The Eaglettes were able to eke out a 33 to 29 victory over the Jacquettes in a previous game.

The girls from Happy took the lead at the outset when Magness chalked up 1 point from the foul line.

The Canyon sextet seemed to have lost their rabbit's foot; they missed numerous shots all during the game, and made only 2 points in the first period. They were also unable to sink many shots from the foul line.

The main feature of the game was the goal shooting of Magness and Hutton who missed only a few of their shots.

Sutton took scoring honors with 20 points to her credit. Magness scored 11 points, and White made the only other counter by Happy. Plaster was high scorer for the Eaglettes with 6 points, Crawford followed with 3 points. The game was marked by a large number of fouls.

Playground Ball Team Begins Work for Meet

The girl's playground baseball team has begun practicing with a view of entering the Interscholastic League Meet. Winnie Dee Hicks and Jewell Chambers are the sponsors of the team. About ten or fifteen freshmen and sophomore girls have signed up for the team, and some of the freshman and sophomore boys are helping the girls practice. Though the team is not completely lined up, it is believed that there is some good material for this year's team. Two new balls have been received, and it is certain that the girls will be able to play better than with the old one.

Work Has Begun On Debate For This Semester

The Debate Club will begin an extensive debate campaign in about two weeks, at the Amarillo Debate Tournament, Feb. 16-17.

The club has been reduced to two boys' debate teams and two girls' teams. The boys' teams are Bob Orton and Jack Oldham, and Dan Gerald and Alton Brasuel. A debate will be held between the two boys' teams sometime next week in order to determine the teams to enter the contest in Amarillo. Mr. George Terry, the debate coach, has not received word as to how many teams may enter. In case only one team of boys and one team of girls may enter, the winner of the boys' debate, and Armor Lee Greenfield and Loura Ferne Brian will enter. If more than one team may enter, both boys' teams and the two girls teams will enter. The second girls' team is composed of Bobby Jo Cheyne and Irene Thompson.

During the remainder of the scholastic year the Canyon teams will debate Happy, Hereford, Pampa, Tulia, and teams from other surrounding towns.

The debaters also hope to attend the Lubbock Debate Tournament.

Faculty Facts

A couple of decades and more ago in the county of Haskell, Texas could be found a very small gentleman by the name of Master Aubrey L. Fox who made his home on a farm in that vicinity.

It was in the small city of O'Brian that Mr. Fox received his grade school education, and at Rochester, Texas, that he graduated from high school.

The following year he enrolled in Simmons University at Abilene from which, later, he received his B. A. degree.

"No, I wasn't particularly brilliant," Mr. Fox smilingly said, just average."

The Science Club (it is in science, by the way, that Mr. Fox has been particularly interested all during his school career) was the one organization that he attended during college. During this period, also, he worked at odd jobs.

Following graduation, Mr. Fox was employed in a radio house for one year in the position of repair man and salesman. It was from this year's work that Mr. Fox attributes his interest in everything along the line of radio. Yes, he had tried his hand in constructing almost every kind of radio from the simple to the complex. He is undecided, by the way, as to his favorite radio star; the foremost contestants for his favor are Will Rogers and Eddie Cantor.

In 1927 he secured the position of teacher in the public schools of Toyah, Texas.

An incident of importance that occurred at Toyah, was that here he met the Miss Gladys Lawson who became in the month of January, 1929, Mrs. Aubrey L. Fox.

After teaching two years at Toyah, Mr. Fox taught one year at Kirkland.

He is now instructor in four courses of science and one in algebra in Canyon high school.

Mr. Fox, furthermore, has done quite a bit of traveling. Several years ago he made a trip trough the Yellowstone Park and California. The summer of last year he enjoyed another trip through California.

Anyone looking for Mr. Fox outside of working hours, is quite likely to find him tinkering in some obscure corner over a radio set, or in school hourse, working diligently at some trrifying experiment in the science laboratory.

Christine Shackelford and Robbie Foster were in Amarillo Thursday.

Lorene and Mary Jean Mickle were in Hereford Sunday.

Col. Coppock Talks On "Over there"

Colonel Coppock from the CCC camp spoke in chapel Thursday afternoon, Jan. 25, before an interested group of students and faculty members on his experiences as Colonel during the World War.

He painted a vivid picture of the battles and hardships during his stay in France.

Col. Coppock stated that being of Quaker descent, he was not militaristic or bloodthirsty, but considered it his good fortune to have been "over there." He served with the first division as Colonel of the First Infantry. He lead his regiment in person and on one occasion he was forced to give up a position he had chosen for regimental headquarters because a brigadier general wanted it.

Throughout the talk he commended the bravery of the enlisted men, and made the statement, "The pomp and circumstance of war is a snare and a delusion."

Col. Coppock explained how the army is organized, and said that during the war he asked his men to know the duties of at least three ranks above them.

He told of a meeting with General Pershing on Sept. 12, 1918, which is Pershing's birthday. He had served with Pershing against the Moros. He said that experienced officers had predicted that the war would not end before 1919, but the men had the motto, "Heaven, Hell or Hoboken by Christmas, 1918." Some of them got there, said Colonel Coppock.

DON'T GET UP NIGHTS
USE BUCHU AND GIN
Make This 25c Test

It is as valuable to the bladder as castor oil to the bowels. Drives out impurities and excess acids which cause the irritation resulting in getting up nights, burning, frequent desire, leg pains and backache. On account of the alcohol use juniper oil from which gin is made. Ask for Bukets, the bladder laxative also containing buchu leaves, etc. After four days, if not pleased your druggist will return your 25c. You are bound to sleep better after this cleansing. City Pharmacy says Bukets is a best seller.

Although his job as federal trade commissioner has been taken from him by President Roosevelt, and his successor appointed, William E. with Guy Carlander, state architect, at the Park Monday. The plans for the lodge are now in Austin awaiting approval from Mr. Colp and Col. R. O. Whiteaker, state parks engineer. Excavation for the lodge will be completed during the coming week. No announcement has been made as to the plans for the lodge, but Major Kingsley was highly pleased with the sketches shown him by Mr. Carlander. Work on building the lodge and making the improvements around the lodge will consume practically a year's time, state the park officials. "When completed, the lodge will be of sufficient size to accommodate large conventions," stated Major Kingsley. "I shall expect to see many of the big conventions of the state held at the Palo Duro when our work is completed."

Mr. Ayres has charge of road construction, and is developing the scenic drive both on top and on the floor of the canyon.

Major Kingsley and Colonel Coppock are working with complete agreement as to the possibilities of the Palo Duro, and determination to make of it the scenic spot of the state. The 800 men in the four camps have entered into the spirit as they have never before shown. They have caught the vision and enthusiasm of Colonel Coppock and Major Kingsley in their plans for development of the Palo Duro.

yon. An effort is being made to increase the quota of the county owing to drouth conditions, but this has been unsuccessful owing to the fact that the quota of many counties of the state was decreased during the past two weeks since Texas had more men at work than had been authorized by the federal government. The local committee is attempting to put more men to work, but must be governed by the quota sent from Austin.

A new project has been approved, calling for the cataloguing all of the material in the Museum under a system devised by the University of Texas. Cards will be furnished by the university, and six people will be employed under CWA to do the work. This will make the material in the Museum of great service to research students of the University and other institutions in the state.
